Congress reserved the area for "red men" and required all whites to withdraw. The Area is known as "Indian Territory." The Five Civilized Tribes ceded large tracts to the U.S. for the Plains Indians. The Seminoles purchase an additional tract (not shown in map). Oklahoma Territory. Negotiations with each of the Five Civilized Tribes for the extinguishment of their national or tribal governments. Adopted a constitution for the "State of Sequoyah" in the Indian Territory, then rejected by Congress. Land Openings to White Settlement.